

Code of Conduct for Nature and Cultural Heritage Protection

SUSTAINABILITY POLICY

At The Komana, we are committed to showing sensitivity towards protecting the natural environment, local/regional culture, and cultural heritage, and we aim to guide our guests in this regard.

We kindly expect our visitors to adopt the following responsible behaviours:

Natural Areas:

- 1. Respect for Local Ecosystems: When exploring natural areas, please use designated paths to avoid damaging the vegetation and local ecosystems.
- 2. Collecting Waste: After picnics or nature walks, it is important to collect all waste and dispose of it properly in designated bins.
- 3. Avoid Disturbing Animals: Do not approach or disturb wild animals, as maintaining natural balance is crucial.

Living Cultures:

- 1. Interacting with Locals: When engaging with local people, be respectful, and show curiosity and understanding toward their culture.
- 2. Participation in Traditional Events: Attending local festivals and traditional events is a great way to experience and support the local culture.
- 3. Fair Trade Practices: When purchasing handicrafts and local products, please act by fair trade principles.

Cultural Heritage Sites:

- 1. Follow Guiding Rules: When visiting cultural heritage sites, it is important to follow the guiding rules and respect preservation measures.

2. Be Mindful When Taking Photos or Videos: Be aware of situations that require special permission for photography or filming and take care not to damage sensitive areas.

3. Respect Historical Values: To help protect historical structures and artefacts, do not damage or write on their surfaces or walls.

These behavioural guidelines aim to protect nature and help us respect local cultures and cultural heritage.

As The Komana, we hope our guests travel by these rules and contribute to efforts in environmental and cultural preservation.
